Dear St. Agnes Parishioners,

As you are aware, Sr. Joan soon draws to a close her service as principal with the current 2017-2018 St. Agnes school year. We are most grateful for her generous gift of self these past fourteen years; it would be an understatement to say she will be missed. The position of school principal is obviously an important one. On that note, I am happy to announce that a new school principal for the upcoming 2018-2019 school year has been selected—Rachel Cunningham. Rachel currently serves as one of our St. Agnes school fifth grade teachers. Her depth of faith, years of experience in Catholic education, concern for our children's well-being, her kindness and the necessary skills and credentials needed for the role of principal in a Catholic school make her a welcome candidate for such a position.

Again, the position of school principal is an important one. I am grateful to our school principal search committee (Ann Holtrop, Kara Rapacz, Tom Swoik, Kate Watson, Kate West, Sr. Joan, and myself) for their time and interest, their insightful deliberations and the commitment to the work necessary for this search that was brought to a timely conclusion.

Please keep Rachel and Sr. Joan in prayer as we make this transition. With a little less than two months left in the current school year, let us celebrate the good news that is St. Agnes School.

With a prayer of blessing in this holy Easter season, I am

Sincerely yours in the Risen Christ,

Fr. Bob
